To start, you need to download the Netflix app on your device and/or make sure you have the latest version. Netflix runs on the following devices: iPad, iPod, iPhone, Android phones and tablets Fire tablet from Amazon PC Specific Chromeboxes and Chromebooks Once you have the app on your device, follow these instructions: Open the app. Select the Downloads icon. If you're running Windows, open the app and select the Menu icon. Based on your device, select one of the following links: Available for Download, Find Something to Download, Select See What You Can Download, or Find More to Download. Choose a movie or TV show. Tap the Download icon in the description page. With TV shows, you'll have the option to download each episode individually. And Android users have the option to download entire seasons. Always remember to download on Wi-Fi to avoid excess data charges from your network provider. Downloaded titles appear in the Downloads category when you tap or click the icon. For Windows, click Menu and then My Downloads. Press the Play icon to watch the title. You can also skip selecting the downloadable content category. Just open any movie or TV show, and if it's available for download, you'll see the icon in the description. Netflix doesn't allow downloading for all content, so the option may not be available. But the selection is comprehensive. How to download TV shows on Hulu Downloading is only available on Hulu (No Ads) plans. If you have an Ads plan, then you must upgrade to download content. Also, you can only download content from Hulu on these devices: Android devices running Android 5.0 or high and with a screen size at least 800 x 480 pixels iPad, iPhone, or iPod (5th generation or later, 5S or later, 6th generation iPod Touch) Amazon Fire tablets that can run Fire OS 5 or higher To download TV shows or movies from Hulu, follow these instructions: Run the Hulu app on your supported device. Tap the Search icon on the navigation bar at the top of the screen. Tap Downloadable. Browse the choices and select a TV show or movie. For TV shows, tap the Episodes tab and choose an individual episode. If available, tap the Download icon in the details. To view downloaded content, choose the Downloads icon from the navigation bar. From there, choose a downloaded show and press the Play icon. Note that Hulu disables the autoplay functions in the downloads menu. If you already know what you want to download, type in the TV show or movie into the search bar and then the download icon. However, not all titles are available for download. Downloading using cellular data It's possible to download content on Hulu using your cellular data, but be aware of potential network charges. To do this, you must enable cellular downloading within Netflix. iOS Select the Downloads icon from the navigation bar. Tap the Settings icon - it looks like a gear. Toggle the switch to On next to Cellular Downloading. Android Select the Account icon from the navigation bar. Tap Settings and then Downloads. Toggle the switch to On next to Cellular Downloading. Once you've downloaded your content, you'll be able to watch any downloads from any profile on that device. You can filter the downloads menu to your profile to make things easier to find. Renewing downloads with Hulu As described in the Hulu section above, downloads on Hulu are temporary. However, you can easily renew expired downloads if they're still available. Follow these instructions: Select the Downloads icon from the navigation bar. Tap the Alert icon - an exclamation point with a circle around it - next to the expired download. Tap Renew Download. How to download TV shows on YouTube Premium To download TV shows and other YouTube videos via YouTube Premium, you first need to sign up for a YouTube Premium account. Once you've subscribed, follow these instructions: Open the YouTube app on your smartphone or go to YouTube.com. Run a search for the TV show or video you want to download. Tap or click on the video so the details appear and the video plays. Tap or click the Download button below the video player. Choose the quality of your video download. When the download is complete, the Download button turns into a blue check mark. To watch videos, tap the Library icon at the bottom of your smartphone screen. In a browser, click the Menu button on the top left - three horizontal lines - and then click the Library icon. Find your title under Downloads within your library, and click to play. There are a lot of platforms to choose from if you want TV shows to download on your devices. But before you go, here are some important things to consider before choosing the best site to download TV shows. Number of downloads: Netflix offers 100 at a time, and Hulu offers 25. Based on your usage, you want to consider the max number of downloads you can have at one time. Otherwise, you might go through your content too quickly. Expiration: Downloads expire on several platforms after a while, and it gets annoying if you have to download items continuously. If you're forgetful, consider this a factor. Content selection: What's the point of paying for a platform to download TV shows if you're not happy with the content? Be sure to review the content for each site and investigate what new content is coming and what's going away. Price: Legal platforms don't offer TV series with a free download. Every site has a pricing structure and you can't download TV series for free. It's up to you to determine what you're willing to pay and whether you're satisfied with the content and features for that price. Features: Different sites offer distinct features within different packages. Before spending money on a service for TV show downloads, look into features like HD and 4K streaming and downloads, ad-free streaming, and various add-ons. Support: Even for streaming services, it's a good idea to look into their support availability and ratings. Check to see if they offer live chat, email, and phone support. You never know when you may have an issue with a platform.
